

MARUM / GLOMAR Transferable Skills Course

Doctoral Thesis Workshop – Lifting off - An introduction to postgraduate research and study -

Dr. Chelsea Korpanty, Dr. Martin Lukas

GLOMAR – Bremen International Graduate School for Marine Sciences

MARUM – Center for Marine Environmental Sciences

29 October 2018, MARUM Bremen

Objectives

The objective of this workshop is to identify support and services available for PhD students in marine sciences, to motivate and provide practical tips and practical advice for the first stage of their PhD project.

Topics include

- Support and services for PhD students
- Supervision
- Funding opportunities
- Career development and transferable skills
- Good scientific practice
- Research stay / industrial placement (internship)

Target group

This workshop is aimed at PhD students in their first year irrespective of whether they are members of a graduate programme or school. Other people, who are interested, are welcome to attend.

Location and time

MARUM, University of Bremen, Leobener Str. 8, 28359 Bremen, Germany, Room 2070

09.00 – 13.00 hrs.

Registration

To register for this course, please visit the course web site.

Please note that your registration will be binding.

The registration deadline for this course is 21 October 2018.

Any enquiries regarding the course should be addressed to early-career@marum.de.